Supreme Court Judge III

Led From Room
By Associates;
Had Completed
Delivering Opinion

WASHINGTON, April 22—(P)—Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone suffered an attack of indigestion during the supreme court session today and his physician said later "he must have a complete rest for a few days at home."

Dr. H. A. Grennan, after being with the stricken 73-year-old judge in his chambers for nearly an hour, issued this statement:

"The chief justice has had a small attack of indigestion. I don't think there is anything more serious at the moment."

"He must have complete rest for a few days at home. There is no evidence whatever of a heart condition."

WASHINGTON, April 22—(P)—Chief Justice Stone was led out of the Supreme court today by two of his colleagues and a physician was summoned immediately.

Stone was supported under the arms of Justices Black and Reed. The court abruptly recessed shortly before 2 p. m. (E. S. T.)

A court attaché said at 1:50 p. m. that a doctor had been summoned.

The interruption came just after Justice Reed had completed delivery of an opinion.

There was a moment of silence and then—discussion behind the judges' bench with justices on either side of the centrally-seated Stone speaking to him in low tones.

Stone, who had spoken several times in delivering opinions, was reading a paper at the time.

As other justices talked with him, Stone spoke out in a voice audible to the front rows of the courtroom.

The 73-year-old justice was heard to say:

"The case should be stayed x x x and investigation."

The meaning of his words was not immediately clear to those in the court room.

Appeared Pale

Stone appeared somewhat pale but not unnaturally so.

Ordinarily the court recesses from 2 to 2:30 p. m. for lunch. The interruption today came about 1:45 p. m.

The chief justice appeared weak during his reading of a dissent, and at several points seemed to listeners to be having difficulty.

Civic Theme At Rotary Club

The Rotary club held its regular noon luncheon meeting at the Bothwell hotel today with the president, Nolan Bricken, presiding.

The luncheon program was devoted to the promotion of the Sedalia post war civic development fund, led by the program chairman for the day, Lee Peabody. Mr. Peabody presented Ray Lippard, who reviewed the principal features of such an industrial development fund.

Organized effort was developed to assist in completing the raising of the needed funds.

Visitors were Ebon Stover, est of Dr. L. S. Geiger; Capt. L. Metz, guest of M. L. Edwards; and Silverman, guest of Dick

More German Prisoners Are Poisoned

NUERNBERG, April 22—(P)—U. S. army authorities said tonight more German prisoners of war had been stricken with arsenic poisoning in a mysterious attempt to kill 15,000 Nazi SS men.

The new cases raised the total of victims taken ill at Stalag 13, seven miles from Nuernberg, since last Monday to 2,283. No deaths have as yet been reported, however, and army authorities said none was expected.

The illness of 1,900 prisoners was announced Friday.

Four full bottles of arsenic and two empty arsenic bottles were found under the floor of the local German bakery which supplied arsenic-dusted bread to a regiment of prisoners last Monday.

Youth Drowns In Reservoir South of City

Smith-Cotton Senior Was Fishing With Relatives

Charles Phifer, 18 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Phifer, 1916 South Prospect avenue, was found dead in the large settling basin at the Sedalia Water Co., about 5:30 o'clock Sunday morning. The cause of death has not been determined by Dr. Kenneth Holdren, coroner, and an investigation is being conducted by him and also the State Highway Patrol.

The young man, late Saturday night, had gone to the pumping station, where his brother-in-law, Sam Knapp, 1809 South Barrett avenue, is the night operating engineer, to fish with his brother, John B. Phifer, 404 North Prospect, and another brother-in-law, Joe Fitzer, of Kansas City. They had placed some trotlines in Flat Creek. Later they came back to town and had something to eat, returning to the pumping station somewhere about 2 o'clock in the morning.

Young Phifer was last seen about 5 o'clock in the boiler room of the pumping station where he was talking with Al Moore, 1808 South Lamine avenue. Moore said Phifer remarked he was going out to look at the lines, and left by a south door, toward the creek.

Had Fishing Equipment

It was apparent the young man had then gone around the pumping station after getting a fishing line and went to the reservoir to fish, as a fishing cork was bobbing in the water beside the body, and a small limb which might have been used as a pole was lying on the bank nearby.

His brother-in-law, Mr. Knapp was making his regular rounds of the Water company's grounds and punching the time clocks. As he walked up to punch the clock at the settling tank, or reservoir, he noted the body in the water about four feet from the overflow or spillway. The clock recorded it was punched a few minutes after 5:30 a. m.

Called For Aid

Mr. Knapp called for help and the other brother-in-law, his brother and Mr. Knapp carried the body up the bank and placed it on the grass. They endeavored to render artificial respiration, and in the meantime, the McLaughlin ambulance with an inhalator machine had been summoned. Dr. John B. Carlisle, was called, and upon his arrival an examination conducted. Dr. Carlisle said the boy was dead, and ordered the coroner to be notified.

Also notified were: I. H. Reed, manager of the Sedalia Water Co., and L. C. Heuerman, Jr., chief engineer, who went to the scene to offer their assistance.

Dr. Holdren conducted a post-mortem after which he asked the highway patrol be notified. Sergeant Fred Rodecker and Trooper Pete Stohr took several organs and the contents of the boy's stomach to Jefferson City where the State Patrol laboratory officers are conducting tests to determine the cause of death.

This morning Capt. T. J. Turnbull, of the state patrol, said it would be two to three days before the tests could be completed. "However," he said, "there are traces of alcohol, indicating the youth might have been drinking."

Dr. Holdren said he would wait reports from the state patrol before deciding whether an inquest was necessary.

Senior In Smith-Cotton

The young man was a senior in Smith-Cotton high school and would have graduated next month. School officials said he was a student above average, artistically inclined and had won honors with his work. However, they said this morning, that in the past semester he had not been

Word Row In OPA Hearing

Manufacturers' Head Calls Those Who Support OPA Guilty of 'Hokum'

WASHINGTON, April 22—(P)—President Arthur Besse of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers today called OPA supporters guilty of "hokum" and set off a loud word row in the Senate Banking committee.

Testifying at the start of hearing on legislation to extend price controls beyond June 30, Besse observed that administration leaders wanted OPA extended without "crippling amendments" and called this "hokum of the highest order."

Senator Tobey (R-NH) shouted for Besse to steer clear of opinion.

"Are you saying that anybody who favors extension of OPA is guilty of hokum?" asked Senator Barkley (D-Ky). Told by Besse that was the case, Barkley roared: "Then I'm guilty of hokum. You will have to improve your testimony before I have any respect for it."

Tobey remarked he was going to discount Besse's testimony.

"Well, I'm not discounting it," Senator Capehart (R-Ind) declared. Capehart said economic stabilizer Chester Bowles and price administrator Paul Porter had called businessmen "every sort of name."

"What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander," Capehart summed up.

On With the Goose

"Well, let's get on with the goose," suggested Barkley and Besse resumed his testimony — "a little overwhelmed," he said.

Besse said he called the administration stand against crippling amendments "hokum" because OPA is "crippled by its own inefficiency, stubbornness and lack of realism."

Bowles and Porter have declared that amendments to the price control law adopted by the house would be inflationary. The house changes, including a guaranteed profit clause and a progressive end to subsidies, are before the senate.

Downtown, Porter addressed a mass meeting of 3,000 OPA workers today, declaring:

"I believe the opposition has reached its high point. There is widespread public support for the strong price control."

"Those who have appraised the house bill objectively, including some of our critics in congress, agree that the bill has got to be readjusted."

Can Hold Price Line

Porter added that given "adequate" legislation and "favorable circumstances," he was "pretty confident that we can hold the price line just about where it is now."

Porter said that during the present transition period, OPA has three major possibilities:

1. To prevent inflation.
2. To see that price controls do not hamper production.
3. To make 'speedy decisions' on price adjustments.

He expressed the opinion that OPA now has completed the major part of its postwar price adjustments.

Supreme Court Ruling On Alien Residents

WASHINGTON, April 22—(P)—The supreme court today ruled that an alien who is willing to perform noncombatant military service for the United States but is unwilling to bear arms cannot be denied citizenship for that reason.

Justice Douglas delivered the court's 5-3 decision. Chief Justice Stone wrote a dissent in which Justices Reed and Frankfurter joined. Justice Jackson took no part.

Civil War in China is Becoming More Critical

By DeWitt Mackenzie
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The civil war which has broken out in Manchuria between Chinese Communists and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's Kuomintang government forces is hourly becoming more critical.

There we have a situation that might easily develop into a fratricidal struggle which would envelop all China with its five hundred millions. And this means that it is a terrible menace of our neurotic world.

Millions Attend Church Service And Hear of The Resurrection

By the Associated Press

The sounds of warfare gone, millions of Christians in all lands gathered yesterday in their places of worship to rejoice over the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

Symbolic Easter services carried special meaning this year to thousands who prayed that this celebration of resurrection might mean also a new life for humanity, freed from the tyranny of war.

In churches, bombed out cathedrals, on mountain tops and along the sea, worshippers heard the clergy tell again the poignant story of the first Easter.

President Truman slipped quietly into the First Baptist church in Washington to lead the United States in observing the festival. Mrs. Truman and their daughter, Margaret, attended St. Margaret's Episcopal church.

Throughout this country, millions streamed out of churches after the service into warm sunshine for the traditional Easter parade.

New York's Fifth avenue had the greatest Easter parade of its history, with a many-colored crowd of 1,000,000 fashionable strollers.

Europeans, celebrating their first peacetime Easter since 1939, packed into churches and flocked to resorts for a weekend holiday.

Pope Pius XII remained in seclusion at the Vatican. Many American servicemen attended St. Susanna's church.

Premier and Cabinet Quit

By Russell Brines

TOKYO, April 22—(P)—Premier Kijuro Shidehara and his cabinet resigned in a group tonight under pressure from the leading political parties, who were expected to join the deposed prime minister in forming a new cabinet.

All ministers agreed to the resignation after Shidehara and Cabinet Secretary Wataru Narashi explained to them that this action was "necessary to stabilize the political situation," Narashi said in announcing the decision.

The 74-year-old premier took his resignation to the Imperial Palace shortly after 7 p. m. (Tokyo time) (1 a. m. CST). Emperor Hirohito accepted it in a one-hour audience but followed with the traditional practice of asking Shidehara to remain in office until his successor could be appointed.

Plane Makes Record Time

WASHINGTON, April 22—(P)—The army marked Washington down today as just another suburb of New York — less than a half hour's ride by jet plane.

A P-80 Shooting Star covered the distance between LaGuardia field and National airport yesterday in 29 minutes and 15 seconds for an average speed of approximately 456 miles an hour or 7.6 miles a minute.

Capt. Martin L. Smith of Kidder, Mo., pilot of the kerosene-burning jet job, halved the previous New York-to-Washington record of 58 minutes and 38 seconds established in 1938 by Alexander de Seversky. Commercial time for the 226 airline miles ranges from something under 60 to 80 minutes.

Smith said he did not find the tail winds he expected.

Vandenberg For Loan

WASHINGTON, April 22—(P)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) called for unrestricted senate approval of the $3,750,000,000 British loan "for the sake of American welfare in a peaceful world."

Vandenberg told his colleagues that he had "struck my balance" in a "reluctant" decision that "the bill should pass for the sake of America."

The Michigan senator said he had been more perplexed by the issue than any he had faced previously in 18 years as a senator.

High School Facilities Are Entirely Inadequate

(Editor's Note: This is No. 2 of a series of articles submitted in explanation of the purpose and needs of an $800,000 school bond issue to be voted upon in Sedalia District May 7.)

"Smith-Cotton high school was built to accommodate approximately 800 students. The enrollment at the present time is 1,137."

"Smith-Cotton high school has no study hall whatever. The auditorium is used for a study hall — with small tablet arms on the chairs and with artificial lighting SO POOR that it DOESN'T EVEN REGISTER on a light meter in certain sections of the auditorium. And in no part of the auditorium is the lighting sufficient to meet—even half way—minimum standards of optometry."

"There are not enough classrooms for the present enrollment; the industrial arts department is entirely inadequate and the library, gymnasium, showers and dressing room facilities should be several times as large."

"The proposed bond issue would enlarge the present building in order to accommodate, more adequately, present enrollment and would provide additional classrooms for two years of junior college."

"VOTE 'YES' AT THE SCHOOL BOND ELECTION MAY 7."

Nation-wide Plan to Feed The Starving

WASHINGTON, April 22—(P)—Every person in the United States will be asked to take a direct part in helping feed people in starving lands under a nation-wide food contribution plan outlined today.

Secretary of Commerce Henry Wallace will serve as chairman of the "emergency food collection" campaign, which begins May 12 "with every community mobilized."

This country's people will be requested to contribute "either food canned in tin or money to buy food," Wallace said in a statement accepting the chairmanship.

"The proceeds will be distributed through the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration on a basis of greatest need."

Private Campaign

The drive will be conducted as a private campaign but will work closely with the government's famine emergency committee. No deductions will be made for administrative or operating expenses.

Local chairmen in the recent victory clothing collection in 19-597 cities and towns will be asked to serve in the food drive.

The Federal Trade Commission, meanwhile, in a report to President Truman called for tightening war-time regulations to prevent bread waste through consignment selling.

Wholesale bakers take back unsold bread from retailers under consignment selling, the FTC statement said. In 1942 enough returned bread to supply a third of a pound daily to 2,055,000 people was sold for stock feed or destroyed.

Bothwell Hospital Notes

Mrs. Forrest Fisher, LaMonte; Mrs. Clyde A. Neighbors, 107 East Eleventh street; William R. Scarbrough, LaMonte; Mrs. J. Ross Kindred, 302 South Grand avenue and June Drennon, 13 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Drennon of Edwards, Mo., admitted for surgery.

C. C. Nash, Lincoln, and R. P. Barker, Warsaw, dismissed.

Mrs. John Koeller, Cole Camp, admitted for surgery.

Mrs. Olive Penquite, 519 West Fourth street and Mrs. Mason Peoples and son, 1412 South Grand avenue, dismissed.

Change Proposed By Bridges

On Army-Navy Unification Plan Wants 'Council Of Common Defense'

WASHINGTON, April 22—(P)—Senator Bridges (R-NH) proposed a compromise army-navy unification plan today with the assertion that Congress must not be "hustled or driven" toward any "militaristic" merger.

Bridges put forth his bill as senators hopeful of keeping selective service alive talked of a move to exempt teen age draftees from overseas occupation duties.

Simultaneously, members of the house military committee reported that the war department has asked that action on universal military training be postponed until next year lest the issue become involved in the forthcoming congressional elections.

Bridges' unification plan calls for setting up a new "council of common defense," with cabinet member heads for army, navy and air. It is a substitute for the single department proposal approved by a senate military subcommittee headed by Chairman Thomas (D-Utah).

The Thomas bill generally is believed to have tacit approval of President Truman, although the latter has not said so specifically.

Up to Congress

Bridges asserted in a prepared address that it is up to congress to find a solution. "This is not an issue for executive decision," he declared. "This is an issue of endless importance for it involves the future safety and security of the nation."

"The president can propose and the armed services can suggest, but this legislative decision is for congress itself to render," he continued. "We must not dodge the responsibility. We must not be hustled or driven toward a decision in which we can not sincerely believe."

Too Much Power to One

Asserting that the proposal for a single department, headed by one secretary and one chief of staff "subscribe to a militaristic doctrine that has always been foreign to American thinking," Bridges listed several objections to the Thomas bill.

He said it would place too much power in the hands of one government official, would unbalance the armed forces, would "eliminate the demonstrated strength of the chiefs of staffs," and would deny adequate provision for research and development.

On the other hand, Bridges said he believed his substitute "meets the president's original thoughts relative to unity of the armed forces."

Cops and a Cat

CHICAGO, April 22—(P)—12 policemen surrounded the Ford Hopkins company, a drug concern, on the near west side last night and began investigating the source of mysterious noises.

Guns readied, a half-dozen of the officers crept up the darkened stairs, floor by floor, as the noises continued.

Reaching the fourth floor, they suddenly came upon a big tom cat chasing a golf ball across the floor and then down the stairs.

Child Smiles After Wagon and Easter Eggs Are Found to Be Safe

SIKESTON, Mo., April 22—(P)—Nobody got the name of the youthful hero, but yesterday when an apartment building here was burning, the 4-year-old son of Bill Cloin stood on the sidewalk nearby and cried bitterly. Finally another boy a year or two older, appearing to understand, dashed through the smoke toward the burning building and returned with a little red wagon and five colored Easter eggs. The tear streaked face of the Cloin child became all smiles.

State Trooper Shot in Arm By Ex-Convict

Who Then Fleed in Patrolman's Car; Patrol Cars Alerted

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., April 22—(P)—A desperate ex-convict arrested by State Patrol Trooper Joe E. Brummell today in Lebanon, Mo., whipped Brummell's gun from its holster as he was being taken to the courthouse jail, shot the trooper through the arm and fled in the patrol car.

Patrol Superintendent Hugh Waggoner said the man apparently snatched Brummell's gun as they entered the Laclede county courthouse. The fugitive drove toward highway 66, but no witnesses saw which direction he turned.

All available police officers were alerted to close in on the area and Capt. H. J. Turnbull of headquarters here said several planes were being used to spot the telltale patrol car.

A St. Louisan

Waggoner identified the man as Virgil Looney, 29, for whom a pickup order was issued by St. Louis police today for investigation in a case involving assault with intent to kill. Looney, who has resided in the Lebanon area in the past, has served prison terms in Gould, Ark., Leavenworth, Kas., federal prison and Missouri penitentiary here.

Looney is also known as Roy Miller and "Red" because of his flaming hair.

Turnbull reported that the patrol car and its fleeing occupant were still in the same general area with officers converging on it. Residents were telephoning every time the conspicuously marked automobile was seen.

"If he'll just stay in that car we'll get him soon," Turnbull said, adding that he feared the man might commandeer another automobile in a final desperate attempt to break through the cordon of police.

Ironically, the patrol car's two-way radio may aid the fugitive in avoiding capture. Headquarters here said officers were trying to keep from tipping the man off as to disposition of searching patrols but some organizational reports have to be broadcast. If the fleeing man turns on the radio he can hear all that is said "and even talk to us if he wants to," Turnbull said.

Car Is Armed

Besides Brummell's service revolver, the man has the standard armament of the state patrol car. Including an automatic rifle and a 12-gauge sawed off shotgun.

Patrol headquarters asked radio stations throughout south central Missouri to broadcast a description of the tall, red-haired fugitive.

Brummell, taken to the hospital at Lebanon, was to be operated on later today to extract the bullet which lodged in his right elbow. Captain Turnbull said physicians reported the bullet struck the trooper high on the left side of the chest, coursed downward and across without inflicting serious injury then struck the heavy bone of the lower right arm.

Turnbull said there was some possibility the elbow fracture might be serious enough to necessitate an amputation.

Fall From Sign Kills Workman

KANSAS CITY, April 22—(P)—A crowd of thousands massed at a downtown street corner today to watch firemen and police extricate the body of a workman from the base of a hotel sign after the man had slipped from his perch at the top and plunged five stories through a long tube inside the sign.

The workman was identified as Rollie Monce, 36. Another sign repairman who saw the accident said Monce was testing the lights on the Phillips hotel sign when he lost his balance. The interior of the sign has a ladder inside from which repairs can be made.

China's Problem Growing

Communist Tells Story to Marshall Who Listens Without Comment

By Harold K. Mills

CHUNGKING, April 22—(P)—General Marshall formally demanded today that the Chinese Communists either publicly retract or furnish details of their unsupported charge that American planes attacked Communist forces in Manchuria and that one was shot down.

Marshall, special American envoy seeking to establish peace between the warring Chinese factions, held an inconclusive three-hour meeting with Gen. Shou En-Lai, chief Communist negotiator, and separate session with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

CHUNGKING, April 22—(P)—China's snarled political problems appeared no nearer solution today after General Marshall held his first conference with Communist leader Gen. Chou En-Lai since he returned from Washington.

Neither government nor Communist spokesmen reported any progress after the three-hour conference.

A Communist spokesman said Marshall listened without comment to Chou explain the political and military situation in China from his party's viewpoint.

SHANGHAI, April 22—(P)—The Chinese paper Ta Kung Pao reported in a Peiping dispatch today that the Communists captured five American correspondents and two military observers to leave the Manchurian capital. No details were given.

Chou disclosed that Marshall had asked a Communist investigation of the Communist asserted claim that United States planes strafed Communist lines in the Szechuan area last week. Chou disclaimed personal knowledge of the incident and said he was radioing field commanders for a report.

Marshall conferred with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek this afternoon.

Troops Gathering

Government reports from Manchuria said today that Chinese Communist troops "are gathering like clouds" in the Kungchulin district east of Changchun where the government's First Army apparently made slow progress in its effort to reach the fallen capital.

Kungchulin is 36 miles from Changchun, captured by the Communists last week.

Lt. Gen. Chao Chia-Hsiang, acting commander of government armies in the northeast, was scheduled to fly from Mukden to the Changchun area today to report on the military situation there.

The New Life (Peiping Daily) correspondent said five United States newsmen, including Associated Press correspondent Tom Masterson, were safe in Changchun but without freedom of action. Approximately 100 government officials there also were detained.

Feeling Is Jittery

The capture of Changchun was reflected in increasingly jittery feeling among government quarters in Mukden and North China. Defenses were tightened at Peiping and Tientsin.

Merry-Go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, April 22—Ladies of the cabinet are really practicing what their husbands preach regarding the saving of food for Europe. Ever since President Truman urged that the American people eat the equivalent of a European ration two days a week, cabinet wives have been studying menus.

Mrs. Clinton Anderson, whose secretary of agriculture husband is one of the hardest-working of the food conservers, has given permission to publish one of her menus. It provides 1,540 calories—the equivalent of a European ration—as compared with the normal American diet of 3,600 calories.

Here it is, with the number of calories listed after each item of food.

Breakfast — Glass of orange juice (75); bowl of cereal (100); milk for cereal (85); half-a-pint of milk or cocoa (170) — total 430 calories.

Lunch — Half-a-cup of thick soup or chowder (150); vegetable salad without oil in dressing (75); muffin (75); baked custard (100); half-a-pint of milk (170) — Total 570.

Dinner — Poultry, fish or meat (150); potato (large serving) (150); green vegetable (peas, beans, greens or broccoli) (40); raw vegetable strips, carrots, celery, tomato, cabbage (50); half cup of fruit (150) or milk for children — Total 540.

office in London has sent another cabled instruction to the British delegation in New York, which outlines in great detail how it shall vote in order to prevent the Spanish issue from coming to a head.

If the delightful Sir Alexander wishes to deny existence of this cable, this column would be glad to publish the exact date, hour and minute the message left London, though we are refraining from this at the moment because, as he well knows, all such messages are monitored by foreign governments and comparison of texts could result in code break-downs.

The Essential Portions of the British Instruction Follow:

Spanish Problem is Internal

"Initially for reasons already referred to we feel that this problem raises serious question of principle and that decision to put matter on agenda would set precedent which might have far-reaching effect on whole future development of UNO.

"Despite M. Bidault's arguments we still feel that question of continuance of present Spanish regime is matter essentially within domestic jurisdiction of Spain (Article 2, Paragraph 7 of charter). Form of a state's government is matter in principle as clearly within a state's domestic jurisdiction as any matter can possibly be, and must consequently be held to be so.

"We can't see how Potsdam declaration (which was statement of joint view of United Kingdom, United States and Soviet governments that Spanish government did not possess required qualifications for membership of UNO); or by resolution of general assembly on February 9th (when endorsed Potsdam declaration) either purported to affect this position or how they could legally affect it if they had purported to do so.

"Neither of these declarations can be interpreted as justifying direct interference by security council in international affairs of Spain, or contention that continuance of present Spanish regime constitutes threat to international security. If by international law a matter is one of domestic jurisdiction, then no declaration of three powers or even assembly resolution of UNO can cause it to cease to be so.

"If form of Spanish government is legally a Spanish domestic matter (as we think it surely is) and if purpose of this declaration or assembly resolution had been (which we say it is not) to say

Drive on Rhine Was Costliest European Battle, Army Report Shows

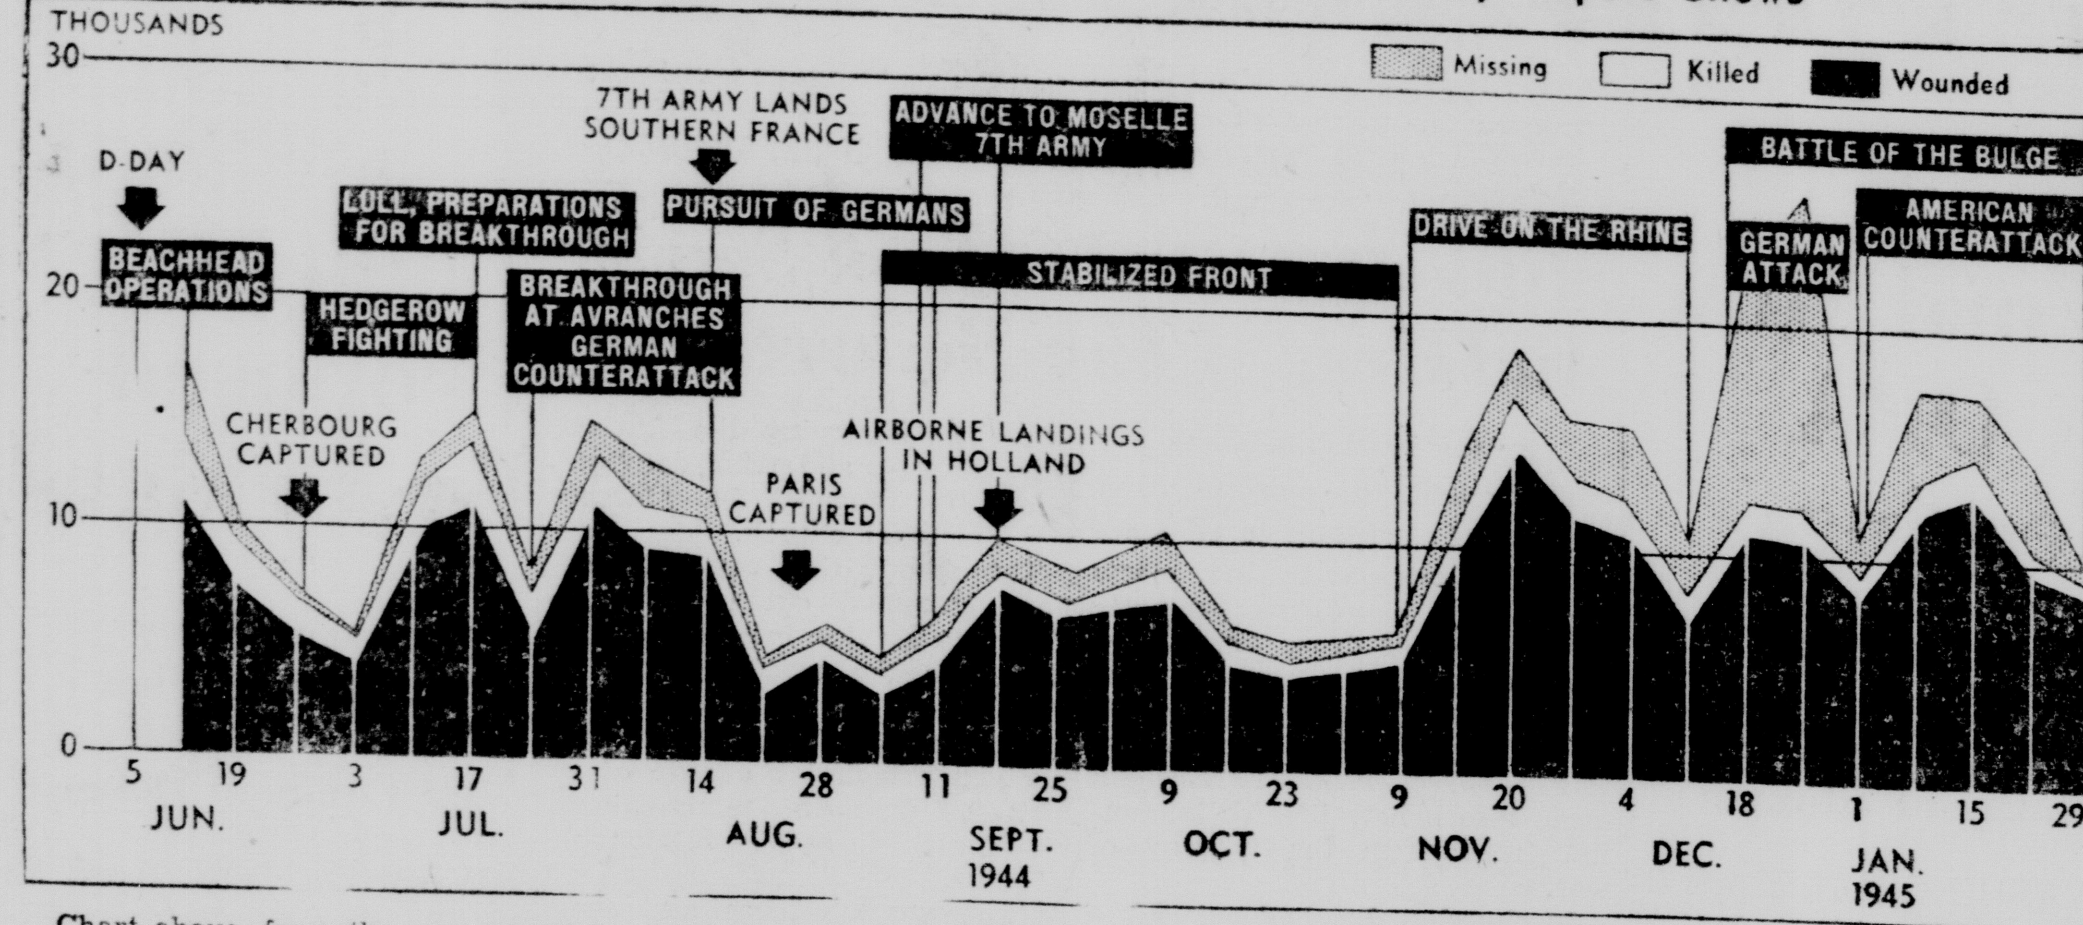

Chart above, from the new report by Gen. Jacob L. Devers, Army Ground Forces commander, to General Eisenhower, shows the battle casualties of Army field forces on the continent of Europe from D-Day, June 6, 1944, to January 29, 1945. It is interesting to note that there were more men killed in action during the drive on the Rhine than died in the D-Day invasion of Fortress Europe, which was expected to be extremely costly in lives. The extreme rise of "missing in action" during the German surprise attack in the Battle of the Bulge probably reflects the number of prisoners taken by the enemy.

Lone Cavalry Division Took Beating in War

Pictograph above, made from data in the new report of Gen. Jacob L. Devers, Army Ground Forces Commander, to General Eisenhower, shows casualties suffered by the various ground force branches from Pearl Harbor Day, Dec. 7, 1941, through August 31, 1945. Highest percentage of casualties was suffered by the 1st Cavalry Division, heroes of the dash for Manila.

The Spanish regime could be dealt with under chapter 6 of charter, then declaration and resolution would have been contrary to the charter and void. No such declaration or resolution could possibly override a basic principle of the charter (See Article 2 and Article 103).

Bar Spain From Agenda

"For all foregoing reasons, vote should be cast against any proposal to place Spanish question on agenda on lines suggested by French government. It should of course be made abundantly clear that United Kingdom government would be as anxious as anyone to see end of present Spanish regime, and ready to join in any action which they feel is really calculated to bring about its peaceful replacement by more suitable government.

"If, nevertheless, the council decided by majority vote to place the matter on agenda, question would presumably be considered even on widest interpretation, most council could claim to do would be to investigate situation under article 34, in order to determine whether there was threat to international security and under article 35, to recommend appropriate procedures or methods of adjustment." (As stated above, recommendations of these now could only be made if threat to peace was declared.)

Spring Flight

By WILLIAM MAIER

THE STORY: "Lady Animal Trainer" Barb Wyman's crowd yells when Debby Weeks comes down the "mad" dog which has just arrived, crated, at the little Cape Cod station addressed to her brother-in-law, Ellie. At 19 Debby still acts and dresses like a tomboy. Her sister Agnes warns her she'll never find a husband unless she changes her ways. Ellie, Agnes' husband, drops a bombshell when he announces that he has invested almost their entire savings in a $2000 fire insurance policy for the old house the three of them live in. Agnes had planned to spend the money on a new heater and a secretarial course for Debby.

THAT night Bull was restless. Debby heard him moving about in the kitchen, walking round and round the room, whining and growling. He woke her up three times. The third time it was early morning, barely light enough for her to see around her room. She got up and wriggled into her clothes; through the small square window she could see pale streaks of lemon-colored light.

She tiptoed down the stairs and through the sitting room into the kitchen. The dog jumped up on her, whining and whimpering and licking her hand, and she rumbled his head and led him out to the porch. He strained at the collar and she dragged him roughly toward the barn and tied him to the rope. He ran back and forth, yipping, then turned quickly and galloped to the end of the leash, straining toward the moors, his neck extended till his collar was back over his shoulders.

Debby stood still, watching him, and presently Ellie came out of the kitchen door with the tails of his flannel shirt outside his trousers and motioned with his head toward the house. "Asleep," he said. Debby nodded, looking at him out of the corner of her eye and smiling faintly. "Mad, ain't she?" she said.

"Phew," said Ellie. "Did you really buy some new extent where it became necessary to take vote on preliminary question whether continuation of Spanish situation was likely to endanger maintenance of international peace and security. When it comes to such a vote we see no alternative to your voting in negative. Discretion should be used as to stage at which such a vote should be brought on, for we would not want to be accused of stifling all discussion of matter which, by majority vote, security council had already agreed to adopt on agenda.

Use Veto if Necessary

"In any case we are opposed to imposition of economic sanctions. Nor while, as we have already expressed on M. Bidault, we are very ready to continue discussions with French and U. S. govts, through usual channels as to how best we can pursue our common objectives towards Spain, do we favor decision by the council on lines suggested by French govt. in their note of 12/3, that matter be referred to council of foreign ministers of 4 powers for consideration.

"Besides affording USSR further opportunity of making trouble, such action by council might set undesirable precedent for other occasions (CF. Harm done to League of Nations by transfer of Corfu dispute to ambassador's conference).

"It is possible that attempt may be made to represent Spanish situation as already constituting a threat to peace in order to bring it under Chapter 7 of charter. Attempt should be made to stop this by use of veto as necessary."

Russian Trade With Argentina

The Russian government is now busily gathering all kinds of information on Latin American commercial relations, but will give out nothing in return, thank you. That was the experience encountered by the Pan-American Union the other day. It ran up against a stone wall of silence.

On February 14, AMTORG — Official Soviet organization for all foreign commerce — addressed a letter to the Pan-American Union in Washington, requesting photographic negatives of five inter-American treaties.

They were: The Argentine-Bolivian rubber agreement of 1943; Argentine-Brazilian agreement for purchase of surplus products, signed in 1941; Chilean-Colombian commercial agreement, originally concluded in 1936; 1943 Colombian-Venezuelan agreement on the frontier commercial air traffic; and a commercial treaty between Colombia and Venezuela, signed in 1944.

The letter requesting the photostats was signed by J. G. Ohlsof of the economic department in the New York City office. The Pan-American Union library had the photostats made and sent them to AMTORG with a bill covering costs. Separately, the Pan-American Union wrote, confirming fulfillment of AMTORG's request and asking in return information on the following matters:

1. Trade treaties between the

2. Trade between the USSR and the 20 Latin American countries, showing exports and imports by commodities and countries from 1935 on.

3. Any reports or studies on economic relations (trade, finance) between the USSR and Latin America republics, collectively or with each country.

4. Annual reports of AMTORG.

5. Market studies for sale of USSR products in Latin America and Latin American products in USSR.

6. Techniques of trade between government trade organizations and private enterprise companies.

Ask the Argentines

This letter was dated March 11. On April 12 Ohlsof replied, explaining that the delay was "owing to absence from the city."

"I have investigated every angle regarding the information you are asking regarding the trade of the USSR with Latin American countries," he continued.

"Unfortunately, neither our library nor our commercial files have any data bearing on this subject.

"You may have noticed from the press reports that a trade delegation from the USSR has arrived in Buenos Aires. We believe that your Argentine friends could

Truman's 'Elder Statesmen' Plan is Nat'l Defense Insurance

By James Marlow
WASHINGTON, April 22—(P)—President Truman is taking out a little national defense insurance with his "elder statesmen" plan.
He recently announced that five top wartime generals and admirals will be his elder statesmen. Some are on active duty, some are retired.
Mr. Truman will call on them individually or collectively—it's not a formal thing—when he wants the benefit of their thinking.

The elder statesman idea is not new. It's been used before in this country and elsewhere.

General of the Armies John J. Pershing, World War I hero, was consulted at the White House from time to time since he retired in 1924.

Bernard Baruch is the best known elder statesman. He was war production boss in World War I.

Called to White House
Since then he has been called to the White House by different presidents—including Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Truman—to give his advice on current problems.

One of the strangest uses of an elder statesman is told by Richard Aldington in his biography of the Duke of Wellington, called the "Iron Duke."

Wellington—for years after he defeated Napoleon at Waterloo—was an advisor to the British crown, besides serving as prime minister.

In 1851, when the Crystal Palace was built in London, sparrows were allowed to get loose inside.

This was all good clean fun until exhibits were placed in the palace. Then it became a problem to get the sparrows out.

Shotguns couldn't be used very well. The blasts might have killed the sparrows but would have blown out the glass.

Called Upon Wellington
The queen called upon Wellington to solve that one. The queen asked how the Crystal Palace could be rid of sparrows.

The duke suggested sparrow-hawks.
Mr. Truman's ten elder military statesmen are:

Generals Eisenhower, Marshall, MacArthur, Arnold and Vandegrift and Admirals Nimitz, King, Leahy, Halsey and Waesche.

A couple of weeks ago congress voted the first four generals and the first four admirals five-star rank for life with yearly pay of almost $15,000.

Vandegrift, commander of the Marines, and Waesche, Coast Guard commander, were voted permanent four-star rank with yearly lifetime pay of slightly more than $12,000.

Mr. Truman said the money the men will receive for life will make it unnecessary for them to go into the advertising business or to work for airplane companies.

Arnold was boss of the Army airforce. He's retired, too. He's living on his farm at Sonoma, California.

Admiral King, also retired, is not doing any active duty.

Of the others Eisenhower, MacArthur, Leahy, Nimitz, Vandegrift and Waesche are still in active service.

Marshall is retired but is serving as Mr. Truman's special ambassador to China.

He will participate in one of the discussion sessions of the institute, presenting a paper on "Life Insurance Policy Loans."

The institute is sponsored by the American Industrial Bankers Association, which will hold its annual convention in connection with the consumer credit school. Convention activities will extend from May 8 through May 11.

This is the first full-scale institute and convention to be conducted by the A. I. B. A. since before the war.

The combined activities will attract a record number of industrial bankers and commercial bankers specializing in consumer credit from all parts of the United States, Canada and Hawaii.

The program for the institute will include formal addresses by national authorities on consumer credit subjects, informal talks in attendance, and question-and-answer forums.

Looking Backward Forty Years Ago

The young men of Sacred Heart Parish who gave a highly credible minstrel show at the New Sedalia theater last Friday night will be entertained at Sacred Heart hall tonight by their pastor, the Rev. Fr. S. Neiberger, and his associate pastors. The event is in recognition on the part of the clergy of the splendid efforts of the young men on the occasion referred to, and besides short talks refreshments will be served, and there will be cigars for those who care to indulge in the fragrant Havanas.

C. I. Wilson, the Sedalia attorney, has rented his farm, consisting of 180 acres of good land, six miles north of LaMonte, to B. J. Harmon, says the LaMonte Record. Since Mr. Wilson has owned this farm he has made many improvements on it, among them being a fine new barn and other outbuildings.

Employees of the Missouri and Kansas Telephone company, while digging a hole for a pole, near the woolen mills, on Mill street, unearthed the bones of an adult human being today. Coroner Guy Tittsworth and Constable C. H. Chaney visited the spot where the skeleton was uncovered, and made an examination of the bones, which were so badly decayed they fell to pieces when handled. Coroner Tittsworth was of the opinion that the body had been buried for years, probably during the Civil war. The fragments of bones were reburied near the spot where they were found, and if there is a mystery connected with the burial of the body, it probably will never be solved.

If you're sharing a telephone party line, you're helping someone else here have telephone service now. Otherwise he'd likely be waiting his turn for service.
Party-line service is one way of stretching the telephone system here—to serve as many people as possible now instead of asking some to wait until we've had time to put in the wires and cables and switching equipment needed to serve everybody who is waiting.
It's a big job—catching up with four years of backed-up demand. But we're hard at it. As soon as possible, we'll bring service to everybody who is waiting for it. And, after that, we expect to be able to furnish one-family telephone service to those who want it.

Byrnes to Try His Hand at Peace Making

Will Attend Series Of Conferences That Can Be Turning Point

By John M. Hightower
AP Diplomatic Reporter

WASHINGTON, April 22—(AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes sets out for Paris tomorrow and another try at world peace-making, gravely aware by his own account of the possibilities of failure.

The secretary is slated to reach Paris in ample time to begin on Thursday a series of critical conferences with foreign ministers Molotov of Russia, Bevin of Britain and Bidault of France.

Some of Byrnes' closest associates and advisers are talking of this meeting as a possible turning point in the history of World War II.

They suggest that actually it could mark the end of efforts by Britain, Russia and the United States to work harmoniously to set up European peace settlements and to build the United Nations into a powerful agency for maintaining the peace once it is created.

Should this happen, and Byrnes himself is reported to have indicated the possibility to a meeting of the Senate Foreign Relations committee last Friday, it probably would result in open and unlimited creation of spheres of influence—something the United States has thus far opposed wherever possible. Also it would link America and Britain even more tightly in common interests and policies than they now are.

In fact, even if these extremes do not develop, the Paris conference may see the United States making one of its strongest moves in defense of Britain's empire interests.

America Concerned
There are increasing evidences—among them grave American concern over Russia's position in Iran until the Red army began to get out—that American officials currently regard the British empire system as one of the bulwarks of world order which the United States cannot afford to have weakened at any strategic point.

The issue may come about most clearly in the deadlock already created over Russia's demand for a trusteeship over Tripolitania and Britain's and America's absolute objection.

The real problem is British control of the Mediterranean, and in relation to Tripoli, to the Dodecanese Islands and to the Dardanelles. American policy is understood to provide that Britain's life-line interests should suffer no serious harm.

Much British capital is invested in Spanish mining enterprises, especially iron, copper, lead and mercury. In addition, Britain can ill afford to lose her important trade relations with Spain.

Russians to See America

WASHINGTON, April 22—(AP)—The State Department will extend to three Russian war correspondents a potentially significant invitation to take a look at how America works and thinks and lives in peacetime.

The three—Ilya G. Ehrenburg of Ivestia, Gen. Mikhail R. Galaktionov of Pravda and Konstantin M. Simonov of Red Star—came here to meet with the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Their visit was planned by the newspaper organization to promote an exchange of ideas between the day by day historians of two of the world's greatest powers.

The Russian writers gave the country's top ranking news executives a bluntly frank idea of what they think about this country's press.

Some of it was favorable: Some of it, too, was sharply critical.

That's the kind of a report the State Department hopes they will take home to Russia—one based upon a trained newspaperman's first-hand observations.

Civil War in China Becomes More Critical

doesn't necessarily mean that agreement with the nationalist government isn't possible, for the Communists might be willing to participate in a heavily liberalized federal government which would recognize Communist state-rights in the disputed territory. However, one of the greatest obstacles to such an arrangement lies in the fact that the Communists are claiming an exceedingly rich area—both in natural resources and development—and the nationalists naturally covet it.

It's a hard nut to crack, but Marshall brought about one truce between the warring factions, and he may achieve another. Having accomplished that his troubles as mediator will really begin, and in this connection I can't escape the feeling that he may get indirect but nevertheless far-reaching support from an unusual source—F. H. LaGuardia, director general of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

Terrible Famine

What I'm driving at is this: China is in the grip of one of the most terrible famines of history. Thousands are dying daily, and many millions are facing death by starvation. Hunger is a breeder of trouble, for there's nothing which can do more to stir passions and render folk incapable of rational thinking.

The U.N.R.R.A. is shipping food to China, and if the relief gets there fast enough and in sufficient quantities, the easement may be reflected in the political situation, and be equally welcomed by all factions.

Japanese Were Abusive to Sgt.

YOKOHAMA, April 22—(AP)—Sgt. Walter L. Konichy testified by deposition today that he was struck 150 times across the face with a garrison belt and beaten 20 times with a pick handle while he was a prisoner of the Japanese.

Sheep Shearing Season For 1946 Is On

More Dollars To Growers When Put In Proper Form

The 1946 shearing season has begun. If this year's wool clip is put in proper form it will mean more dollars to the grower.

The 1946 wool clip is being purchased by the Commodity Credit Corporation of the United States Department of Agriculture at average prices of the last two or three years. The wool is valued by government appraisers and is purchased on the basis of these appraisals.

The following suggestions on obtaining a good pack, if followed, will avoid some of the common penalty discounts.

1. SHEAR ONLY WHEN THE WOOL IS DRY—Considerable damage results when fleeces are removed and bales while damp. Usually a musty odor develops and buyers shun such wool. It can be sold only at a sacrifice.

2. SHEAR ON A CLEAN DRY SURFACE—Wool must be kept clean if its value is to be maintained. Fleeces dropped on a dirty floor or on littered ground will take up foreign substances and the value of the wool will be decreased.

3. PACK BLACK, GRAY, OR COTTED FLEECES SEPARATELY—Fleeces of this description should never be permitted to come in contact with the white fleeces. The use to which black or gray wool can be put is limited. Hence its value is less than that of comparable grades of white wool.

When black fleeces are packed with white, the latter becomes contaminated with black fibers and their usefulness is impaired. The Department of Agriculture's schedule of purchases values for 1946 states: "Black Wool (grease). The discount shall be one-third off the grease appraisal price of the comparable grade of white wool."

Scoured black and gray wool will be discounted from 10 cents to as much as 30 cents per pound from the comparable white wool classification, depending upon the grade. Do not risk impairing the value of white fleeces by packing gray or black fleeces with them.

4. KEEP TAGS AND DUNG LOCKS OUT OF FLEECES—Tags and heavily incrustated locks must be kept out of the fleeces and packed separately if the value of a clip is to be maintained. The schedule of prices of the Department of Agriculture states that, on original bag clips, if all tags and the off wool are not packed separately there will be a discount in price paid, not to exceed three (3) percent, from the grease appraisal price as determined by the Government appraisers. Producers, who, last season, kept their bags of off wool separate profited by doing so. This same procedure this season, will likewise prove profitable.

5. KEEP WOOL FREE FROM TRASH—Straw, chaff, sticks, burs, and other extraneous matter should be prevented from mixing with the wool. Burs and other vegetable matter entangled in the fleeces often cannot be entirely removed by the ordinary methods of manufacture. Additional chemical or mechanical treatment, such as carbonizing or bur picking, is necessary to eliminate these particles from the fibers. This increases the cost of manufacture and buyers discount the value of the wool to take care of the increased manufacturing cost. Under the Government's price schedule, burs and seed wool may be discounted one-fourth to one-third from the grease appraisal price of the comparable grade of clean wool.

6. TIE ALL FLEECES—Processing is made more difficult and more costly when the fleeces are not tied. Except in the case of Texas 8-month and fall wool, all untied clips will be discounted (2) cents per pound from the grease appraisal price by the Government appraisers.

7. NEVER USE SISAL OR BINDER TWINE TO TIE FLEECES—When sisal or binder twine is used, loose fibers from it get into the finished wool product and cause serious loss. It is only with greatest difficulty that wool tied with sisal or binder twine can be sold to a few manufacturers and then at only very low prices.

Most manufacturers will not use it at any price. A discount of ten (10) cents per pound, clean basis, will be made by the Government for all wool tied with sisal or binder twine. USE PAPER

TWINE. Pieces of paper twine that may be overlooked by the wool sorter in the mill cause no damage since twine of this nature disintegrates in the scouring bowls or is lost in the various processes of manufacture.

The Doctor Says

BY WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M. D. Written for NEA Service

All winter long you have been stoking your body with foods which kept you warm and active. To help conserve your body heat you wore heavier clothing and when you went outside you moved briskly if the weather was cold.

When the first warm days of spring arrived, your appetite fell off. You left your heavy coat at home, wearing a light one instead. Still you found it hard to keep going.

You didn't have to consult a physician as to the cause of your tired feeling, for you recognized the old familiar symptoms of spring fever.

With the first warm days of spring, children notice the heat and want to take off all their winter clothing at once. Parents should not yield to their demands, but should change their clothing as rapidly as common sense dictates.

Change diet now. Change of diet in the spring is also indicated. During the winter you have been eating heat producing foods, and now the cooler varieties have the appetite appeal.

As soon as fresh vegetables appear on the market, you should add them to your menu. Since vegetables do not have a high rating in calories, they are not heat producing. They supply vitamins and minerals in largest amounts when they are served fresh.

Heavy lunches should be replaced by spring salads to help avoid that lousy feeling.

The heat regulating mechanism of the body is controlled by a spot in the brain. In a way, it resembles the little gadget on the wall in your home, as it regulates body heat by opening and shutting the exit of heat through the skin.

Body Is Adaptable. When the body is completely at rest, heat production is lowest. During physical exertion, heat production rises, and this causes the blood which flows through the brain to stimulate the control spot.

The nerves carry the impulses to the skin vessels, which dilate, thus causing more rapid loss of heat.

If the temperature of the surrounding air is too high to allow heat to be lost this way, more impulses come through from the center of the brain, and the sweat glands are stimulated to activity. Then heat is lost by evaporation.

Spring fever is caused by the body's changing over from a winter to a spring schedule. It takes time for your body to make this adjustment.

Change your diet to lighter foods, change to lighter clothing, and take it easier. If you do these things, it won't be long before the switch-over is complete.

Vegetables In Family Diet

Well grown, properly harvested vegetables fresh from the garden are among the most valuable items in the family diet, says Flora L. Carl, extension nutritionist of the University of Missouri.

They are highly nutritious, important for health, pleasing in color, texture and flavor.

If properly prepared and nicely served, vegetables look and taste good. Vegetables vary greatly in color. There is the pearly white of onions and turnips, the clear golden yellow of carrots, squash, and sweet potatoes, the deep reds and the various shades of red of tomatoes, beets, radishes; the deep greens of cooked greens and the light clear green of cooked cabbage and leaf lettuce. Vegetables vary in texture from the crisp crunchiness of celery to the soft meekness of baked potatoes.

Vegetables also provide a generous portion of the minerals, vitamins, and bulk we need in our foods to keep us well and strong. No two vegetables provide exactly the same amounts or kinds of food materials, so people who eat a variety of vegetables will probably be better fed than those who eat only a few. Some vegetables provide more of the essential food elements than others. Four groups of vegetables that should be included regularly in our meals are:

1. Greens and other green and yellow vegetables.

2. Tomatoes and salad greens.

3. Soybeans and other dried beans and peas.

4. Potatoes—Irish and sweet.

Vegetables grown in the home garden may be enjoyed at their best. They save many trips to the grocery store. They conserve the family income. They afford a continuous supply of highly essential foods.

Ten New 4-H Clubs Formed In The County

Canvass Made By County Agent In Past Few Weeks

In an effort to reach many more rural boys and girls in Pettis county and to make it possible for them to have the privilege of the experience of belonging to a 4-H club, a rather broad canvass of the county was made by the county extension personnel during the last few weeks to attempt to organize clubs in communities not now represented by club work.

As a result of the work in the county ten new clubs have been started, thus making it possible for many more boys and girls to belong to clubs, carry projects, and participate in the many worthwhile activities carried on by 4-H club members.

With the ten new clubs there are now 38 4-H clubs in Pettis county with approximately 530 members enrolled. This is the largest enrollment the county has had in a number of years and with the possibility of getting several more clubs started it promises to be even greater.

Some of New Ones
The Cottage 4-H club was the first new club to be organized in Pettis county this year. The community had not had a club before and the members and their parents are quite enthusiastic about the organization. At the first meeting held in mid-winter the weather was bad but even so interested youngsters and their parents were present. At the second meeting all eleven members and their parents were present again.

The Bennett club in the southwestern part of the county also had the weather against them for their first meeting but at the end of the second meeting twenty members were enrolled, leaders had been chosen, and projects had been selected. The group recently had a Weiner roast at the Bennett school. Last year the Longwood-Hopewell club covered quite a large territory and the members had to travel long distances to club meetings.

Some of the members in the southern end of the area met at the Tanglenook school to organize their own club in their own immediate community, one that would enable more from that district to belong. Another group met at the Cartwright school to organize a club in that community. The secretary was the only member that had belonged to the Longwood-Hopewell group previously.

Both of these clubs have had several meetings and are off to a good start. A number of children and their parents met at the Sunny-side school to organize a club there. Most of the members in this group have chosen either woodwork or sewing as projects.

In the High Point community a women's Extension club and a 4-H club were organized recently. This is the largest of the new clubs with 24 members enrolled. The group was fortunate in having Miss White, one of the teachers at the High Point school and a former 4-H member, assist them in getting started.

In the McVey district nine members enrolled when the group met for the club organization. Two of the members in this group have older sisters that were quite active 4-H members in an adjoining county. Members of the newly formed Pacific 4-H club have met twice recently to organize the club, select leaders, choose projects, and plan their work for the rest of the year.

In the Bethel community nine members enrolled at the second meeting of the group. At this meeting leaders were also chosen. A large group met at the first meeting of the Lone Elm club. Some of those present got information about 4-H club and planned to meet at the Crystal Springs school where they organized their own group. There are quite a number of interested children and

Range Shelter Meet Thursday

Pettis county poultrymen are invited to attend the summer range shelter demonstration meeting at 2 p. m., Thursday, April 20, that will be held on the Al Read farm two miles west and one mile north of Riecke's store. The farm is just one mile off highway 52. At this meeting a ten by twelve Missouri summer range shelter will be constructed.

This meeting has been planned to give poultry producers an opportunity to secure ideas and suggestions on the construction of this important piece of equipment in the growing of healthy pullets. E. B. Winner, extension poultryman of the University of Missouri, will attend and lead the discussions.

The Missouri summer range shelter that will be built at this meeting provides comfortable summer quarters to protect the pullets from the sweltering heat, relieves crowded brooder houses, and provides rearing the pullets on clean range.

Pullets reared in a range shelter will grow faster and will be more fully developed and ready for the laying house in the early fall months. By being able to move the range shelter on clean ground parents in both of these communities that have started recently.

Persons were contacted in quite a number of communities other than those in which clubs were organized. In a number of those communities clubs will be organized in another year.

Detroit Tigers Are Licking Their Chops

World Champions
Have Broken Triple
Jinx That Plagued
Them for Years

By Joe Reichler
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Detroit's snarling Tigers, having smashed a triple jinx that plagued them through the years were licking their chops today and shouting defiance at the baseball experts who had predicted the wartime world champions would not repeat.

Prior to this season the Tigers had (1) lost their last eight opening games; (2) beaten Pitcher Steve Gromek of Cleveland only once in seven tries; (3) taken the measure of Bob Feller but twice in his last nine starts against them, or since Rookie Floyd Gie-bell confounded the baseball world by outpitching the Indians' fireballer in a game which decided the 1940 pennant.

This year, in only five days,
Detroit's darlings have (1) shattered their opening day hoodoo by belting the St. Louis Browns in the season's inaugural; (2) whipped Gromek 7-0 in his own backyard before 42,775 rooters;
(3) triumphed over Feller, who before this season had beaten the Tigers more times than any other team.

The net result is that the Tigers have won four of their first five games and are breathing hotly on the necks of first place
Boston's also once-beaten Red Sox in the early season pennant race. The Sox have won one more game than the Bengals.

Detroit had to travel into overtime yesterday to break the Feller jinx. The Tigers accomplished it in the 10th inning, 3-2, when Eddie Lake wrangled a free pass from the Van Meter (Iowa) meteor and scampered all the way home on a two-bagger by Eddie Mayo.

The Red Sox had to be satisfied with an even break against Philadelphia's Athletics, and were forced to stage a six-run ninth inning rally to even gain that.
After George Metkovich's three-run homer climaxed the ninth inning onslaught, Ted Williams won the opener in the 10th with a bases-loaded single 12-11. The A's behind old Bobo Newsom, gunning for his second straight victory, captured the second game 3-0 to snap Boston's five game winning streak.

The New York Yankees, pre-season favorites for the American league flag, kept pace with the Red Sox and Tigers by tripping Washington's Senators 6-1 behind the effective six-hit pitching by Spud Chandler. Joe Dimaggio and Charley Keller made Chandler's quest for his second straight triumph easier by hitting successive homers in the seventh frame.

The revenge-minded St. Louis Cardinals fought back from a three-run sixth inning deficit to defeat the National league champion Chicago Cubs 7-6. Victory sent the Cards into a tie for first place with Brooklyn. A three run outburst in the eighth topped by Pinch Hitter Bill Endicott's two run double buried the Bruins. The defeat dropped the Cubs into third place.

Brooklyn continued to feast on its cousins, the New York Giants, defeating their interborough rivals for the third straight time 2-1
as Rookie Joe Hatten outpitched Bill Voiselle for his first major league victory.

The Cincinnati Reds ended a victory famine by submerging the Pittsburgh Pirates in both ends of a double header 8-2 and 4-3.
Eddie Miller was a big help to Pitcher Ed Heusser in the opener, the ace shortstop's three-run homer and two-run double supplying the winning margin. The Reds overcame a 3-1 deficit in the nightcap to win for Joe Beggs.
Boston's Braves and Philadelphia's Phils divided a twin bill,

NEW YORK, April 22.—(AP)—
The Dubuque, Iowa, amateur association not only will have two ball teams composed of returned war vets — representing the American Legion and VFW — but it will use a number of disabled vets as umpires. . . And no wise cracks about what happened to their eyesight. . . Secretary Carl V. Riley explains: "Our officers felt that there were vets interested in the game who, because of injuries or other disabilities, would be handicapped in playing but who would get some enjoyment and make a few dollars as umpires." They found about a dozen to attend a two-weeks umpiring school which will start in May and all hands agree it's a swell idea which could be tried out in other cities. . . "We would get almost as much kick if we could produce a good umpire or two as if a second Babe Ruth came out of our league," says Riley.

Szabo Will Meet Peters Tuesday

Ken Fenelon, Dubuque, Ia., is returning to Sedalia Tuesday night to meet Don McIntyre, Otterville, in the main event on the weekly
American Legion wrestling card.
The two headliners should be a drawing card for local mat followers.

Opening the evening entertainment will be a special event between another wrestler who has appeared in Sedalia in the past, Joe Szabo of Detroit, Mich., and East St. Louis, Ill., who meets Mel Peters of Omaha, Neb. Szabo is a rough mat man and furnishes plenty of entertainment during his appearance in the ring.

The semi-windup brings together Leo Newman of Los Angeles, Calif., and Seattle, Washington, and Marshall Estep of Sturgeon. Newman, who appears to be one of the roughest wrestlers to appear here since Ray Eckert, was disqualified last week, but hopes to be able to come through with enough "stuff" to beat Marshall.

Charles Thomas, Columbia wrestler, who was victor over Newman, will be the referee in the matches this week.

Hornets Win Opener From Jr. Legion 7-3

Gene Bremer Leads Smithton in Hitting And Runs Batted in

The Junior Legion baseball team
sponsored by Pettis County Post
No. 16 American Legion, opened the 1946 baseball season with a 7 to 3 defeat Sunday afternoon. The game was played on the Smithton diamond before one of the largest crowds ever to witness a game in that city.

The Legion team was the first to score by counting in the first inning on hits by Walker and Bud Thomas, they added another in the second inning. The Smithton Hornets were not to team to give up, so when Egbert, starting pitcher for the Legion team, walked two batters and hit one after two were out, Gene Bremer, Smithton shortstop hit a home run to score four runs. Bremer in the fourth frame hit a three bagger with two on base to give the Hornets a safe lead.

Fred Arbogast was on the mound for the Hornets and pitched a nice game allowing 9 hits but was able to keep them scattered.
Jim Egbert opened for the Legion team, was relieved in the fifth by Jim Imhauser. Imhauser was taken out in the ninth, when Hawley took over to wind up the game.
